3. In our last annual Report we drew attention to the fact that there had been a decrease in the average daily number of persons relieved both in and out of the workhouses from February, 1888, to February, 1889, as compared with the number so relieved in the preceding year.

We have now to report that the returns for the weeks included in the statement on page 2 show a further decline in the average daily number of persons relieved in the workhouses, whilst there is also a decrease in the average daily number of persons who received out-door relief.

The average daily number in the workhouses in the weeks included in the statement was 43,586, and on out-door relief 62,286, making a total of 105,822, which is less than the average daily number relieved in and out of the workhouses in the year 1888-89 by 2,587.

The following table shows the number of persons in receipt of in-door and out-door relief, respectively, in the last week of each month of the year ended the 25th of January, 1890, as compared with the preceding year:—

4. NUMBER of PERSONS in WORKHOUSES and on OUT-DOOR RELIEF in the last week of each of the twelve months ended the 25th of January, 1890, and in the corresponding weeks of the preceding year (ended the 26th of January, 1889).

The returns summarized in the foregoing table show a decrease in the number of persons relieved in workhouses in each of the weeks of the year 1889-90 included in the table as compared with the corresponding weeks of the preceding year. They also show a decrease in the number of persons who received out-door relief excepting in the two weeks ended on the 26th of October and 30th of November, 1889, respectively.

It will be observed from the above that there has been a decrease of 972 in the total number admitted in sickness, and a decrease of 24,148 in the number admitted who were not sick, thus showing a decrease of 25,120 in the total number admitted during the year as compared with the previous year. The number suffering from fever or other contagious disease was less by 1,029 than in the previous year, and the total number of persons relieved in workhouses shows a decrease of 27,127.

6. The following statement shows the average daily number of the several classes of persons relieved in workhouses during each of the last thirty-three years ended on the 29th of September:—

The total number of deaths in the workhouses in the period comprised in the above table was 10,973. In the previous corresponding period the total number of deaths was 10,737; there has, therefore, been an increase of 236 deaths as compared with the number in the previous period.

Deaths by fever were 372, as against 388; by lung disease 2,019, as against 1,886; and there was no death from small-pox.

ORPHANS AND DESERTED CHILDREN.

10. The number of orphans and deserted children out at nurse from the workhouses in Ireland under the provisions of the Act 39 and 40 Vic., c. 38, on the 8th of February last was 2,676, being a decrease of 5 on the number at the corresponding date in the year 1889.

EMIGRATION.

11. We mentioned in our last Report that steps were being taken to assist the emigration of poor families in the Belmullet union by means of a grant under the Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act, 1882, and the Tramways and Public Companies (Ireland) Act, 1883. Twenty families in all emigrated consisting of 109 persons, the total grant made for the purpose being £800 12s. 3d.

The Ardfert emigration committee who conducted emigration proceedings in the Tralee union in previous years were reconstituted last year, and they effected the emigration of 23 families consisting of 143 persons. The grant made for this purpose was £831 9s.

12. We now continue the series of recent statistics by repeating, with one additional year, the table showing the number of persons assisted by Boards of Guardians to emigrate under the provisions of the Irish Poor Relief Acts and the cost incurred for that purpose in each year, that is to say, for forty years ended on the 25th of March.

AMALGAMATION OF UNIONS.

13. In our last annual Report we referred to the fact that we had under consideration the question of dissolving the unions of Bawnboy, Dunfanaghy, Glin, Killadysert, and Tulla. From the report received by us from our Inspector, Mr. W. L. Micka, of the inquiry held by him respecting the proposed dissolution of the Bawnboy union it did not appear that sufficient reason or argument was advanced in favour of the proposal. We have also received and considered a report made by the same Inspector of an inquiry held by him respecting the suggested amalgamation of the Dunfanaghy union with those adjoining it, and we do not at present propose to make any alteration in regard to that union either. The necessary proceedings have not as yet been completed to enable us to arrive at a decision in the case of Glin union, and we do not propose to take any further action at present in regard to the other two unions mentioned above.

DISSOLUTION OF BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

14. During the past year we deemed it necessary, in pursuance of the powers vested in us by the 18th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, to dissolve the Boards of Guardians of the Portumna and Cork unions, and to place the management of these unions in the hands of paid officers. The letters assigning our reasons for dissolving these Boards will be found in the appendix.*

SCHOOL DISTRICT.

15. Our Report for the year ended March, 1888, contained an Order which we made on the 24th of February, 1888, combining the unions of Trim, Drogheda, Dunshaughlin, Navan, and Kells for the maintenance and education of children who are inmates of the workhouses of such unions, in pursuance of the 2nd section of the Act, 11 and 12 Vic, cap. 25.

Since that time the proceedings for establishing the school have been in progress. The school Board has been formed, and, having obtained the county gaol at Trim, which is no longer required as a prison, they have caused the necessary structural alterations to be made for the purpose of converting the building into a school.

The officers required for the school have been elected, and, all other arrangements being now nearly completed, it is expected that the school will be opened in about a month.

FINANCIAL STATISTICS.

16. We now proceed to the statistics arising out of the accounts of the unions for the year ended the 29th of September, 1889.

We deal in the first place with poor relief expenditure.

From the preceding table it will be seen that there was an increase of £148 in "in-maintenance and clothing," of £312 in "cost of relief in blind and deaf and dumb institutions, and of patients in extern hospitals," of £190 in "salaries and rations of officers," and of £8,092 in "all other expenses," while there was a decrease of £5,082 in "out-door relief," making a net increase of £3,660 in the expenditure on the relief of the poor during the year.

*These percentages are calculated upon the expenditure under the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834. The rates are calculated upon the total expenditure under the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834, and the total expenditure under the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834, and the total expenditure under the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834.

It will thus be seen that while the total expenditure for poor relief, medical relief, burial-grounds, sanitary measures, superannuation, payments under the Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, payments under the National School Teachers Act and all other purposes was, in 1888, 1,458,383, the expenditure in 1889 was 1,420,866.

SEED SUPPLY ACT.

20. It will be observed from paragraph 18 of our last Report that on the 30th of March, 1889, twenty-seven unions remained indebted under the Seed Supply Act to the extent of £22,885 13s. 11d. During the year following that date ten unions completed the repayment of the loans obtained by them under the Act, and the total amount repaid to the Commissioners of Public Works during the year was £5,383 8s. 9d., which left a balance of £17,502 5s. 2d. due on the 31st of March last by the Guardians of seventeen unions.

The amount advanced to Boards of Guardians under the Seed Supply Act in the year 1889, after crediting the unions with certain sums refunded, was £598,306 10s. 9d., of which £580,804 5s. 7d. had been paid on the date mentioned, viz.—the 31st of March last.

MARKETS AND FAIRS (WEIGHING OF CATTLE) ACT, 1887.

21. Since the 31st of March, 1889, we have made Orders exempting eight more fairs from the provisions of the Act for periods not in any case exceeding one year.

In 22 cases where Orders of exemption had been made for a limited time the market authorities have applied to us for renewal of the Orders for a further term, and in 11 instances we have renewed the Orders exempting the fairs for a further period of two years, and in the remaining 11 for one year.

MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT AND VACCINATION ACTS.

22. We next submit to your Excellency a report of the proceedings under these Acts for the year ended the 30th of September, 1889.

The annexed table exhibits, in the usual form, the fluctuations in the number of cases in which medical relief was afforded under the Medical Charities Act, during each of the last twelve years ended on the 30th of September, for each province and for the whole of Ireland.

In Ulster there was an increase of 307 in the number of cases prescribed for at the dispensaries, and a decrease of 4,275 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Munster there was a decrease of 4,054 in the number of cases prescribed for at the dispensaries, and a decrease of 7,392 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Leinster there was an increase of 807 in the number of cases prescribed for at the dispensaries, and a decrease of 8,356 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Connaught there was an increase of 226 in the number of cases prescribed for at the dispensaries, and a decrease of 1,687 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

The last three columns in the table show a decrease of 24,424 cases for all Ireland, including both classes, as compared with the previous year.

INFLUENZA, 1889-90.

27. The epidemic of influenza which marked the close of 1889 and continued to prevail during the first quarter of 1890 constitutes the most remarkable event connected with the public health of Ireland since the publication of our last Report.

Influenza has been known in Ireland for many centuries and the earliest notice published respecting this disease in the British Isles is contained in the "Annals of Ulster," A.D. 1326:—"Awful thunder and lightning this year, which destroyed the corn and produce of Erin, so that it was blanced and waste. An epidemial disease common throughout all Erin which was called Sluedan (prostration, influenza, which affected) during three or four days every person, so that it was second only to death."^{*}

In 1328 influenza is recorded under the name of Sluedan in the "Annals of the Four Masters," and in the "Annals of Connaught," and under the name of Murru in the "Annals of Clonmacnoise." Several outbreaks of influenza are mentioned in the fourteenth century in Ireland. In 1580 the same disease is described as a strange kind of sickness called "the gentle correction" or influenza. Between 1650 and the end of the seventeenth century four outbreaks are mentioned, and between 1700 and 1800 thirteen epidemics of influenza visited Ireland. The great epidemic influenza of 1803 which overspread Europe began in Ireland. It was observed in Dublin and Armagh in January but is said to have appeared earlier in the south. It was at its height in April and began to decline in the middle of May. It was characterized by "cough, oppression of chest, vertigo (sic) of back and limbs, pain of face and jaws, noise of ears and deafness, extreme weakness and lowness, even fainting, but without serious consequences." There is considerable evidence that the lower animals, horses and cats especially, were simultaneously affected. The year 1801 was characterized by unusual heat, and respecting the year 1803 it is stated that "so much heat and long continued drought occurred that springs and even rivulets were dried up." Between the epidemic of 1803 and the very general epidemic of 1847-8 there were eight visitations of influenza.

Continental outbreaks of influenza or "Grippe" are recorded at intervals in every century since the year 1400, but there appears to be a wide difference of opinion as to the precise route the disease followed in its progress. In 1580 it would appear to have travelled from west to east. The continental epidemic of 1733 is stated to have begun in Edinburgh, but since 1782 the tendency of influenza has been to move from east to west, starting from Russia, traversing Europe, and disappearing in America. In Russia influenza is considered to originate in China and to reach Russia by crossing the Ural mountains.†

The influenza epidemic of 1889-90 prevailed at Tomsk (Siberia) on the 15th October (27th October) and during the first week in November at St. Petersburg, Moscow, Riga, and Sebastopol. In St. Petersburg it is thought that 650,000 persons, or nearly two-thirds of the population of that city, were attacked. The epidemic fell rapidly upon every country in Europe, striking every important centre of population, and arrived in Paris in the early days of December. The Parisian outbreak attracted the serious attention of western Europe. It appeared suddenly in the great shops of the Louvre and in the central postal offices where large numbers of the hands employed were affected. Professor Brouardel and Dr. Proust were charged with the duty of inquiring into the nature of the outbreak. They reported in the middle of December that the epidemic was not a new disease, that it was not "dengue fever," but that, like the epidemic of 1837, it was one of influenza or "La Grippe." In the last week of December influenza was epidemic throughout all quarters of Paris, and, although the disease was itself of a mild type, its influence had largely increased the rate of mortality, it had in fact raised the death-rate of Paris from a weekly average of less than 900 in November to 2,683 in the last week of December. In France, as elsewhere on the continent, rich and poor were impartially attacked.

* In connection with the high mean temperature preceding and accompanying the epidemic of 1889-90, it is interesting to note that Walsingham, the Chronicler of St. Albans, says that in 1325 and 1326, the seasons were so warm that the rivers were dried up, and many wild and tame animals died of thirst.—(Dean Butler's Notes to his translation of Grace's Annals)—Census of Ireland, 1861, Part V., Tables of Deaths, p. 83.

In London there is reason to believe that influenza was present during the last week of December, 1889. During the first week of January, 1890, it certainly prevailed in London, Birmingham, Liverpool, Bristol, and in other parts of England and Wales. In the first week of the present year its presence had also been recognised in Scotland.

Before proceeding to the consideration of the influenza of 1889-90 as it affected Ireland it may be well to refer briefly to the meteorological and other conditions present during the quarter preceding the general manifestation of its presence in this portion of the United Kingdom. The mean pressure of the barometer for the fourth quarter of 1889, as taken at eight Irish stations, was high, varying from 29.92 at Sligo to 30. at Valencia, and the mean temperature for the same three months was also high, ranging from 43.9 at Parsonstown and Sligo to 48.4 at Valencia.* In Dublin the mean barometrical pressure was 29.98 and the mean temperature 45.5 for the same period, and both were higher than the average for the corresponding quarter of the five years 1884-8. Out of 1,472 observations of the direction of the wind taken at the eight Irish meteorological stations during the last quarter of 1889 only 339 (or 23 per cent.) showed N., N.E., E. or S.E. winds, and December, the last month of the quarter, was remarkable for the absence of northerly and easterly winds. The average prices of

* Sir Arthur Mitchell and Dr. Buchan have made a laborious examination of the meteorological conditions attending five epidemics of influenza, extending over a period of forty-five years, and Sir Arthur Mitchell arrived at the conclusion that epidemics of influenza in the United Kingdom were connected with exceptionally warm weather, which manifested itself generally both before and during the epidemic. This observation is confirmed to a remarkable extent by the features of the Irish epidemic of 1889-90.

See also Dr. John William Moore's observations respecting the temperature and influenza in "The Influenza Epidemic of 1889-90, as observed in Dublin."—(Dublin, John Falconer.)

provisions for the fourth quarter of 1889 were lower than during the corresponding quarter of 1888. Thus the price of the 4lb. loaf was 6d. in 1889 as against 7d. in 1888. Potatoes in 1889 were from 1s. 11d. to 2s. 5d. per cwt. as against 2s. 6d. to 2s. 10d. in 1888, and beef was 4s. per cwt. lower in 1889 than in 1888. Lastly, the number of paupers relieved indoor and outdoor was lower in the last quarter of 1889 than in the last quarter of 1888. It will thus be seen that no climatic or economic conditions unfavourable to the public health existed in the quarter preceding the severe epidemic of influenza which set in with the first month of 1890, and the Registrar-General states that the statistics as to the health of the people, while not so satisfactory in the last quarter of 1889 as in the corresponding quarter of 1888, nevertheless compare favourably with the average results for the fourth quarter of the ten years 1879-88 as regards both the general death-rate and the rate represented by deaths from zymotic diseases.

We have obtained returns from about 780 dispensary medical officers in charge of the 720 districts into which Ireland is divided.* These returns are made up to the 15th of March, and, although influenza at that date was still present in many parts of the country, we believe the principal features of the epidemic may be gathered from the facts set forth in the returns completed up to that date.

It would appear that in a few districts on the east coast of Ireland cases of influenza were recognised in the month of October. In Banbridge union in the county of Down a case is reported as having occurred on the 8th of October. Farther north, in Ballymoney union in the county of Antrim, cattle suffered from influenza in the summer and autumn. In the county of Dublin a medical officer reports that he saw a case on the 28th of October in Howth. In Drogheda union in the county of Louth a case was noticed on the 11th of November. Cases are also returned as having occurred during November in the counties of Kilkenny, Meath, Kildare, and Wicklow. In November isolated cases are also returned from the counties of Mayo and Roscommon in the west of Ireland. During the month of December there can be no doubt that typical cases of influenza were treated in more than one county in each of the four provinces. It was, however, in the first week in January that influenza prevailed generally throughout Ireland, and the period of its maximum prevalence would appear to have been towards the close of that month and during the early part of February. The figures furnished to us fall short of the numbers affected, many medical officers having recorded that the cases returned represent only those who suffered so severely as to oblige them to seek medical advice, and that no record was kept respecting those lightly affected who did not consult the medical officers. The following table shows the population in 1881 and the number of cases of influenza made up to the 15th of March last in the four provinces of Ireland:—

* From 29 districts we have received no returns; and in 9 dispensary districts it is stated that no typical cases of influenza had occurred.

Ulster,	1,743,075	25,561

Total,	5,174,836 *	76,309

What may be described as the severe cases of influenza amounted to a little more than 16 per 1,000 on the estimated population. (See note *.)

On the subject of the origin and mode of extension of the epidemic in Ireland the views expressed by medical officers differ, but there is a general consensus of opinion to the effect that the disease was of a miasmatic character, that it was air-borne, that it was preceded and accompanied by high temperature and moist atmosphere. A small number of observers considered it infectious and contagious, but the great majority were of opinion that it was not. There is no evidence to show that it manifested a preference for particular localities, and its incidence and progress were apparently uninfluenced by geological formations or geographical features. It does not appear to have followed the usual channels of communication; its spread was not influenced by valley lines, † by river-courses, by high or low levels, by undrained or marshy grounds, by drained lands or uplands, nor by the contour of the different areas attacked. No class of persons seem to have been exempt from attack, but several observers express the opinion that those whose occupations kept them in the open air suffered in larger numbers than persons who remained at home or worked under cover. ‡

In answer to our inquiry as to any observed uniform period of incubation a few medical officers state they have reason to think it has varied from six hours to forty-eight hours, or even longer, but the general expression of professional opinion is to the effect that the "materies morbi," whatever may be its nature, is received into the human system in a condition which produces immediate results, and that the attack of influenza is in the vast majority of instances sudden in its onset. A great many medical officers have themselves suffered from the disease and in almost every instance they state that they were in their usual health up to the moment when they were seized with rigors or severe chills.

* The population of Ireland estimated to the middle of the year 1889, had fallen to 4,730,532. (Registrar-General's Returns.)

† In only one instance a medical officer reports that in his district the disease seemed at first to follow the valley lines, and then to spread right and left.

‡ One observer notes the exemption from influenza of persons working in the spinning rooms of flax-mills where the air is moist and the temperature averages 80° F.

The principal symptoms of the disease as detailed in the large mass of returns placed at our disposal admit of the following broad lines of classification:—first, a group of cases in which symptoms belonging to the nervous system predominated; second, a group presenting symptoms connected with the respiratory system; third, a group in which gastric symptoms were the most marked; and fourth, influenza with catarrhal symptoms. These four groups appear in many instances to have been attended with complications, amongst which bronchitis, pulmonary congestion, and pneumonia were the most frequent.

Relapses were very common especially amongst those who exposed themselves by going out of doors too soon, and in relapses pulmonary affections were very prominent. All observers agree that those who lay up from the first were most lightly affected and recovered best, and that the worst attacks were seen in persons who tried to follow their usual occupations and to battle against the disease.

The ordinary train of symptoms in the majority of cases of influenza may be described as follows:—sudden and severe rigors, or persistent chilliness, very frequently attended with vomiting. These symptoms were immediately succeeded by high temperature (from 100 to 103 or 104, in a few instances 105), intense and peculiar headache, principally in the forehead, across the vertex, and extending to the back of the neck. Pain or tenderness in the eyeballs. Severe muscular pains, principally in the muscles of the back, across the loins, and in the great flexor muscles of the lower limbs. Delirium was frequently an early symptom. Total loss of appetite with nausea. Sleeplessness was often present, and, on the other hand, great drowsiness and inclination to sleep have also been observed. Dry cough was frequently noticed. Tongue generally coated with a white or yellowish fur. The pulse has not been reported as high, rarely above 100. The skin has generally been dry, but perspiration has often been copious after the first forty-eight hours. The duration of the acute phase of the attack has generally been about four days. Convalescence has been very slow.

It has been noted that the attack sometimes began amongst labouring men by their suddenly fainting at their work. Several observers have reported that the very young and the very old escaped influenza, and that when it attacked children it frequently began with convulsions.

There is a very general agreement amongst all observers of the disease in Ireland that the attack, whether light or severe, has been followed by most remarkable mental depression, loss of energy, and profound bodily prostration.

Diarrhoea has been present in the early stages in many parts of Ireland and early vomiting has been a marked symptom in most parts of the country. Influenza characterized by nervous symptoms, and especially neuralgia, appears to have been the most common, and the catarrhal variety the least common, type of the disease in Ireland.

Regarding the complications we gather from the reports sent to us that the disease has exhibited a marked tendency to search out and to affect any weak organ. In otherwise healthy subjects the complications most frequently recorded are the following:—an abnormally slow pulse, and, following the acute symptoms, sub-normal temperature (96). Otitis (inflammation of the ear) going on to suppuration, and sometimes deafness. Orchitis, this curious and inexplicable complication has been frequently noted. Cystitis has been recorded, and epileptic convulsions in adults have also been reported. Abortion has been observed in connection with influenza.

Rashes have been noticed by several medical officers; they have been described as resembling in some cases the rash of scarlatina, in others the rash of measles, in others that of erythema.

The mortality due directly to influenza in Ireland, as in other countries, has been very small, but this specific form of disease is remarkable by reason of the disturbing influence which its existence indirectly produces upon the public health. In the presence of influenza other diseases, and especially those of the respiratory organs, show a greatly increased tendency to end in death. The recent epidemic affords a further illustration of the truth that although influenza itself kills very few, a season of influenza is a season of high mortality. We have already pointed out that all the general conditions, meteorological and economic, which tell in favour of the public health were present during the quarter preceding the epidemic of 1889-90. We have reason to believe that conditions not less favourable continued to prevail during and after the subsidence of the epidemic which marked the close of the last and the early part of the present year. The death rate for the last quarter of 1889 was 16·5 per thousand, and, having regard to the favourable character of the weather in the three succeeding winter months, a death rate below the first-quarter average might have been expected in the first quarter of 1890; it has, however, increased to 24·5, the highest death rate recorded since the establishment of registration. So high a death rate has been approached, but not equalled, upon only two occasions, corresponding with two winters of unusual severity. The death rate for the first quarter of 1890 in fact exceeds by more than two per thousand the average first-quarter death rate of this part of the United Kingdom. We believe that when the Registrar-General's analysis of the tables of mortality for the period covered by the epidemic comes to be published it will be shown that the influenza of 1889-90 is indirectly accountable for a large excess over the average mortality of the period included in the three winter months of the year.

Diseases amongst the lower animals either preceded or accompanied influenza in human beings in nearly all parts of Ireland. In the province of Ulster horses and dogs were affected in the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Cavan, and Londonderry; horses only in Down, Fermanagh, and Monaghan, and dogs only in the county of Donegal. In Munster horses and dogs were affected in the counties of Clare and Kerry; horses, dogs, and cats in the county of Cork; horses, dogs, and horned cattle in the county of Limerick, and horses only in the counties of Tipperary and Waterford. In Leinster horses and dogs were affected in the counties of Carlow, Kildare, and Louth; horses and horned cattle in the county of Dublin; poultry and cats in the county of Westmeath; dogs and cats in the county of Wexford, and horses only in the counties of King's, Longford, Meath, Queen's, and Wicklow. In Connaught horses and dogs were affected in the county of Roscommon; horses only in the counties of Galway and Mayo, and dogs only in the county of Leitrim. Of the thirty-two counties in Ireland there are only two—Kilkenny and Sligo—from which we have not received reports of disease, supposed to have been influenza, amongst the lower animals.*

* The following is the description given by a medical officer of influenza in dogs:—
 "Great lassitude, very stiff on motion, thirst, vomiting of everything taken, and loss of flesh. Attack lasted about one week."

SEWERAGE AND WATER SUPPLY.

33. Our report upon Public Health is continued from the last annual Report. Details were given therein of the operations in regard to sewerage and water-supply under the provisions of the Public Health Act, 1878, in continuation of the detail of proceedings under the Act of 1874; the extent of those operations is still in some degree measured in rural sanitary districts by the number of the Orders under seal fixing the area of charge for each such operation, and the loans borrowed for these purposes through the Public Works Commissioners.

The number of such Orders issued each year since 1875-6 is shown in the following table:—

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1885.

37. In paragraph 35 of our last Report we gave an account of the proceedings that were being taken under the Labouring Classes Lodging Houses and Dwellings Act of 1866, as incorporated with the Housing of the Working Classes Act of 1885, and since that Report we have sanctioned loans of £20,000 to the Corporation of Cork, and £2,200 to the Corporation of Waterford.

These sums, together with the sum of £70,721 19s. 8d. previously sanctioned, constitute a total of £92,921 19s. 8d. sanctioned up to the 31st March, 1890, to the various urban sanitary authorities in Ireland under the provisions of the Housing of the Working Classes Act.

In our last Report we mentioned that the Corporation of Dublin had under consideration tenders for the erection of houses for the working classes at Bow-lane, West, for which a loan of £10,325 had been previously sanctioned. These houses, which consist of 86 tenements, have now been completed, and the number of applicants for the dwellings largely exceeds the number of tenements. In Cork, Galway, New Ross, and Waterford, the works for which loans were sanctioned have not as yet been commenced. In Enniskillen a contract has been entered into for the erection of 12 houses. Thirty-seven houses have been completed in the city of Kilkenny and 26 in Wexford all of which are occupied. Nine additional cottages have been completed during the year in the city of Limerick and are occupied.

ARTIZANS AND LABOURERS DWELLINGS IMPROVEMENT
ACTS, 1875 TO 1885.

38. No Orders have been made under these Acts since our last annual Report.

DEPARTMENTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

39. Since our last Report we have lost by death the services of one of our medical inspectors, Dr. John Todd; another of our medical inspectors, Dr. Stewart Woodhouse, resigned, having been appointed as medical member of the General Prisons Board, Ireland. The vacancies thus caused have been filled by the appointment of Dr. Thomas J. Browne, medical officer of the Dungannon dispensary district of Dungannon union, and Dr. Thomas J. Stafford, one of the medical officers of the Boyle dispensary district of Boyle union.

We have the honour to be,

Your Excellency's obedient servants,

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD FOR IRELAND.

APPENDIX A.

THE POOR LAW ACTS AND OTHER ACTS NOT IN-CLUDED IN APPENDIX B OR C.

I.—ORDERS.

No. 1.—GENERAL ORDER ASSESSING upon UNIONS in IRELAND the amounts payable by them, respectively, under the Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act.

To the GUARDIANS of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule herunto annexed; to the Treasurer of each of such Unions, and to all persons whom it may concern.

WHEREAS, by an Act passed in the Forty-second year of the Reign of Her present Majesty, Queen Victoria, entitled "An Act for making better provision respecting Contagious and Infectious Diseases of Cattle and other Animals, and for other purposes," it is among other things enacted that on receipt of the Certificate of the Chief Secretary or Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland to the effect that a sum equivalent to a certain Poundage, to be specified in such Certificate, on the net annual value of the property in all the Unions in Ireland is required for the purposes of the Act, the Local Government Board shall, by order under their Seal, assess that sum on the several Unions in proportion to the net annual value of the property therein, and the said Board shall transmit copies of the Order to the Guardians and to the Treasurer of each Union:

AND WHEREAS by the said Act it is further enacted that on receipt of such Order the Treasurer of each Union shall, out of the Union funds, pay over the amount assessed on the Union to the Bank of Ireland, to be placed to the General Cattle Diseases Fund, and the Guardians of each Union shall debit the several Electoral Divisions with proportions of that sum according to the net annual value of the property therein:

AND WHEREAS it is provided by the said Act that no larger sum shall be levied under the said Act at any one time than shall be equivalent to a poundage of One Halfpenny in the Pound on the net annual value of the property in all the Unions, nor shall any larger sum be levied under the said Act in the whole than shall be equivalent, taken with any money before the commencement of the said Act carried to the Cattle Plague Account, to a poundage of Fourpence in the Pound on the net annual value of the property in all the Unions:

AND WHEREAS a Certificate under the hand of the Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant, bearing date the Thirteenth day of April One Thousand Eight Hundred and Eighty-nine, has been received by Us, the Local Government Board for Ireland, in which it is certified that a sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred and Twenty-three Pounds Thirteen Shillings and One Farthing sterling, being equivalent to a rating of One Farthing in the Pound on the net annual value of the property in all the Unions in Ireland, is required for the purposes of the said Act:

NOW THEREFORE, in pursuance of the provisions of the said Act, We, the Local Government Board for Ireland, do hereby assess the said sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred and Twenty-three Pounds Thirteen Shillings and One Farthing upon the several Unions in Ireland, in proportion to the net annual value of the property in each Union according to the Valuation thereof now in force as follows; that is to say, we assess upon each Union the amount set opposite to its name in the Schedule hereunto annexed.

No. 2.—GENERAL ORDER ASSESSING upon CONTRIBUTORY UNIONS under the National School Teachers Act their respective proportions of Results Fees for the year ending 31st March, 1890.

To the GUARDIANS of the POOR of the several Unions named in the Schedule to this Order; to the Treasurer of each of such Unions, and to all persons whom it may concern :

WHEREAS We, the Local Government Board for Ireland, have received from the Commissioners of National Education an estimate for the year ending the 31st day of March, 1890, of the full amount payable as Results Fees in respect of Pupils attending the National Schools in each of the Unions which have become contributory Unions under an Act passed in the Thirty-ninth year of the Reign of Her present Majesty, Queen Victoria, entitled "An Act to provide for additional Payments to Teachers of National Schools in Ireland" :

AND WHEREAS the Unions which have become contributory under the said Act are those of which the names are placed in the first column of the Schedule hereto :

AND WHEREAS by the said Act it is enacted that the Commissioners of National Education shall require the Local Government Board in every year to provide a sum equal to one-third of such full amount payable as Results Fees as aforesaid, and that the said Local Government Board shall thereafter provide such sum in the manner by the said Act prescribed; and the Local Government Board have received from the Commissioners of National Education a requisition to provide, in the year 1889-90, a sum equal to one-third of such full amount aforesaid :

AND WHEREAS it is by the said Act further enacted that upon the receipt of every such estimate the Local Government Board shall by an Order under their Seal assess upon each contributory union a sum equal to one-third of the full amount payable as results fees in respect of pupils attending the National Schools in such contributory union, and shall transmit a copy of such Order to the guardians and likewise to the treasurer of such contributory union, stating the amount so assessed on such contributory union :

AND WHEREAS it is by the said Act further enacted that forthwith on the receipt of such Order by the treasurer of any contributory union he shall, out of the funds then lying in his hands to the credit of the guardians of such union, or, if there shall be then no sufficient assets, out of the moneys next received by him and placed to the credit of such guardians, pay over the amount so assessed on such contributory union to the Bank of Ireland, to be there placed to the credit of the Commissioners of Education to a separate account, to be entitled "The Results Fees Account:" and that the guardians of such contributory union shall in their account with the electoral divisions of such contributory union debit each electoral division with its proportion of the said amount according to the net annual value for the time being of the property rateable to the rates for the relief of the destitute poor in each such division :

AND WHEREAS it is provided by the said Act that if in any financial year the sum provided by the Local Government Board in respect of any contributory union exceeds the amount required for the purposes of the Act in such year in respect of such contributory union such overplus shall be carried to the credit of the next following financial year, and in such last-mentioned year only such sum shall be raised by assessment on such contributory union as shall be necessary in addition thereto to make up the sum which would in the ordinary course under the said Act be required to be provided by the Local Government Board in respect of such contributory union in such next following year:

AND WHEREAS we have received from the Commissioners of National Education a statement of the surplus of previous assessments, as set forth in the fourth column of the Schedule hereto:

NOW THEREFORE, in pursuance of the powers vested in us by the said Act, We do hereby assess upon each of the unions named in the first column of the Schedule hereto the amount set opposite to its name in the fifth column, such sum being equal to one-third of such full amount payable as Results Fees as aforesaid by such union as set forth in the second column of the said Schedule, less the amount of surplus of previous assessments as set forth in the fourth column.

II. CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—THE POOR LAW ACT, 1889.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
14th October, 1889.

SIR,—The Local Government Board for Ireland forward, for the information of the Board of Guardians, copies of the 1st and 9th sections of the Act 52 & 53 Vic., cap. 56, entitled "The Poor Law Act, 1889," which received the Royal Assent on the 30th of August last. The sections quoted apply to Ireland:—

1.—(1.) Where a child is maintained by the guardians of any union and was deserted by its parent, the guardians may at any time resolve that such child shall be under the control of the guardians until it reaches the age, if a boy, of sixteen, and, if a girl, of eighteen years, and thereupon until the child reaches that age all the powers and rights of such parent in respect of that child shall, subject as in this Act mentioned, vest in the guardians;

Provided that the guardians may rescind such resolution, if they think that it will be for the benefit of the child that it should be rescinded, or may permit such child to be either permanently or temporarily under the control of such parent, or of any other relative, or of any friend.

(2.) A court of summary jurisdiction, if satisfied on complaint made by a parent of the child that the child has not been maintained by the guardians, or was not deserted by such parent, or that it is for the benefit of the child that it should be either permanently or temporarily under the control of such parent, or that the resolution of the guardians should be determined, may make an order accordingly, and any such order shall be complied with by the guardians, and, if the order determines the resolution, the resolution shall be thereby determined as from the date of the order, and the guardians shall cease to have the rights and powers of the parent as respects such child.

(3.) For the purposes of this Act a child shall be deemed to be maintained by the guardians if it is wholly or partly maintained by them in a workhouse or in any district school, separate school, separate infirmary, sick asylum, hospital for infectious diseases, institution for the deaf, dumb, blind, or idiots, or any certified school under the Act of the session of the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter forty-three, or is boarded out by the guardians, whether within or without the limits of the union.

(4.) Where a parent is imprisoned under a sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment in respect of an offence committed against a child this section shall apply as if such child had been deserted by that parent.

(5.) Nothing in this section shall relieve any person from any liability to contribute to the maintenance of a child, but the fact of such contribution being made shall not deprive the guardians of any of the powers and rights conferred on them by this section.

(6.) Nothing in this section shall authorize the guardians to cause a child to be educated in any religious creed other than that in which the child would have been educated but for any resolution of the guardians under this section, nor affect the enactments respecting the religious education of a child maintained by the guardians, or respecting the right of any minister of the same religious persuasion as the child to visit and instruct the child, nor affect any of the enactments specified in the schedule to this Act, which enactments relate to the religious education of children maintained by guardians.

9. The section of this Act relating to the control of the guardians of a union over a child deserted by its parents, but no other section, shall apply to Ireland, and in such application of the said section to Ireland,—

- (a.) The word "guardians" means the board of guardians of the poor for a union under the provisions of the Act of the session of the first and second years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter fifty-six, intituled an "Act for the more effectual relief of the destitute Poor in Ireland," and the Acts amending the same:

The word "union" means a union for the relief of the destitute poor under the provisions of the said Acts:

- (b.) A court of summary jurisdiction shall be constituted of two or more justices of the peace in petty sessions, sitting at a place appointed for holding petty sessions, or of some magistrate or officer for the time being empowered by law to do alone any act authorized to be done by more than one justice of the peace, and sitting at some court or other place appointed for the administration of justice.

NO. 3.—NATIONAL SCHOOL TEACHERS (IRELAND) ACT.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
31st December, 1889.

SIR,—In pursuance of the 4th Section of "The National School Teachers (Ireland) Act, 1875," the Local Government Board for Ireland transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Board of Guardians of Union, the Notice which they are required by that Section to transmit, on or before the 1st day of January, to the Guardians of every Union which shall not at such time be a contributory Union within the meaning of the Act.

The Notice now transmitted, as in the case of the Notice which was transmitted on the 31st December, 1888, requires the Guardians within forty days from the receipt thereof to inform the Local Government Board whether, for the purpose of increasing the remuneration of the Teachers of National Schools within the Union, they are willing to make their Union a contributory Union within the meaning of the Act, and the Guardians will observe therefore that by the present Notice they are now called upon, in pursuance of the requirement of the Act, to decide whether they will become contributory for the year 1890-91, (that is for the year commencing on the 1st April next), and subsequent years, until the resolution to contribute be legally revoked.

The Board forwarded with their Circular of the 30th August, 1875, a copy of the Act and of various other Documents relating to this subject, and they desire to refer the Board of Guardians to that Circular and the Documents which accompanied it for any information which they may require before replying to the enclosed Notice.

NO. 5.—ANNUAL ELECTION OF CHAIRMEN OF BOARDS OF GUARDIANS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,

3rd March, 1890.

SIR,—The Local Government Board for Ireland have observed that it occurred in some Unions, upon the occasion of the election of Chairmen of the Board of Guardians after the last General Election of Guardians for the Union, that either the Clerk of the Union or some Guardian other than one of the Chairmen of the previous year acted as Chairman until the election of a Chairman for the current year took place.

The Board, therefore, consider it necessary to direct the attention of Boards of Guardians to article 3 of the General Order for regulating the Meetings and Proceedings of Boards of Guardians in Ireland, in which it is expressly provided that the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Deputy Vice-Chairman, when elected, shall, respectively, continue to hold their offices until the election of a Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Deputy Vice-Chairman following the next Annual or General Election of Guardians shall take place, unless they shall previously die, resign, become incapable, or be disqualified by ceasing to be Guardians of the Union.

If, on the day fixed by the General Order above referred to for the election of Chairmen, the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Deputy Vice-Chairman of the previous year continues to be a Guardian and is present at the Meeting, he should preside until the Guardians elect a Chairman for the ensuing year, but if the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and Deputy Vice-Chairman of the previous year have all ceased to be Guardians, or are absent from the Meeting, the Guardians present should elect one of themselves to preside, temporarily, at the Meeting until the election of a Chairman takes place.

On the Chairman being elected, he should, if present, take the Chair before the Guardians proceed to the election of Vice-Chairman and Deputy Vice-Chairman.

The Board request that you will bring this communication before the Guardians upon the occasion of the election of Chairmen for the ensuing year.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

III.—CORRESPONDENCE, &c.

DISSOLUTION of BOARDS of GUARDIANS.

1, PORTUMNA UNION.—LETTER TO GUARDIANS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
25th October, 1889.

SIR,—The Local Government Board for Ireland have had under consideration the financial condition of the Portumna Union, and a Report on the subject which they have received from their Inspector, Mr. Bourke.

The Local Government Board would refer to the letters addressed to the Board of Guardians on the 5th of April and 3rd of May last, in which they alluded to the Guardians' maladministration of the affairs of their Union, and the Board now regret to find that its condition continues to be in the highest degree unsatisfactory owing to the failure of the Guardians to make and levy sufficient rates in due time.

The rate to meet the requirements of the Union to the 29th of September last, which ought to have been put in course of collection early in the year, was not made by the Guardians till the month of June, and the Board observe from Mr. Bourke's Report that on the 14th instant the Guardians were in debt to contractors, officers, and others to the amount of about £1,900, while there was a balance of £72 against the Guardians at foot of the Treasurer's account in the Union ledger. To meet these debts there is only £1,937 of rate outstanding, with a further sum of about £280 payable to the Guardians this year in respect of the Parliamentary Grant and the sale of farm produce, and it will thus be seen that even if all these assets were now available the money at the disposal of the Guardians would only be about sufficient to meet existing liabilities, leaving barely any funds for the future expenditure of the Union.

Mr. Bourke also informs the Board that out-door relief ordered by the Guardians has not been paid from want of funds, and he makes the following statement in his Report:—

"The Union Treasurer refuses to honour any of the cheques issued by the Guardians unless there are funds in his hands sufficient to meet them, and I may mention that at this date a year's salary is due to both the chaplains of the Workhouse and to the Sisters of Charity (four in number) in the Hospital, and half a year's salary due to all the other officers of the Union, with the exception of one Relieving Officer who is owed only one quarter's salary. In consequence of the bad financial condition of the Union no one would tender for the supply of straw to the Union (a most necessary article), and the turf contractors are not sending in the supply of turf, which has to be bought from any one who brings it and is willing to wait for payment."

"A good supply of clothing, bedding, &c., is badly required, the children being almost in rags, and most of them dressed in their own clothes (such as they are) and not in suits belonging to the Union. Only one person has tendered for the supply of clothing, bedding, &c., and the Guardians have now advertised again for tenders for these articles in the expectation that others may be found ready to come forward. Meanwhile winter is approaching, and the inmates both healthy and sick must consequently suffer if the existing state of affairs continues."

Having regard to the manner in which the Union has been mismanaged and the state into which it has been brought by the present Board of Guardians, the Local Government Board are of opinion that the duties of the Guardians have not been duly and effectually discharged according to the intention of the Irish Poor Relief Acts, and the Local Government Board have therefore felt it necessary to make an order dissolving the Board of Guardians, and they will appoint paid officers to carry into execution the provisions of the Poor Law, Medical Charities, and Public Health Acts in the Portumna Union.

A copy of the Order is enclosed.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant

2.—CORK UNION.—LETTER TO GUARDIANS.

Local Government Board,
Dublin, 22nd January, 1890.

SIR,

The Local Government Board for Ireland have had under consideration the proceedings of the Board of Guardians of the Cork Union at their meetings on the 9th and 16th instant, from which the Board find that on the former day the duties of the Guardians were not discharged by reason of the introduction of topics foreign to the administration of the business of the Union, and that on the latter the rules of the Local Government Board relating to the transaction of the Guardians' business were deliberately violated and set at naught.

The 14th Article of the General Order of the Local Government Board expressly directs that no matter or question shall be brought forward at a Guardians' meeting until all the business of the meeting comprised in the order of proceedings laid down in that rule shall first have been disposed of, but it appears that on the 9th instant a resolution unconnected with the business of the Union was proposed before the ordinary business was concluded, and on the Chairman very properly refusing to put the resolution the Guardians present adjourned the meeting. By reason of this course of action much of the ordinary business was postponed, and by a return obtained from the Clerk of the Union it appears that several important and pressing matters were not attended to.

On the 16th instant a resolution quite unconnected with the administration of the affairs of the Union was again proposed before the ordinary business was transacted, and on the Chairman very properly refusing to receive it a long and unseemly discussion took place which continued up to a late hour, and the Chairman and other Guardians having left the room the resolution referred to was then proposed and carried, and the General Order above mentioned was thus wilfully and deliberately infringed.

It must be borne in mind that on several former occasions the Local Government Board have found it necessary to remonstrate with the Guardians in regard to the manner in which the business of the Union was neglected in consequence of discussions having arisen on political and other questions altogether unconnected with their duties as Guardians. On the 18th of January and 14th of November, 1888, the Local Government Board addressed the Guardians in regard to their violation of the General Order regulating the meetings and proceedings of the Board of Guardians, and on the 7th of August, 1889, the Board had occasion to write again to the Guardians pointing out that owing to the disorderly opposition to the ruling of the Chairman at the meeting on the 1st of that month, and the consequent adjournment of the Board, the meeting broke up, leaving much important business undone. On that occasion the Local Government Board stated :—

“The Local Government Board are determined not to allow such a course of action to be pursued, or permit the business of the Union to be neglected by repeated attempts to infringe the provisions of the General Order regulating the Guardians' proceedings at their meetings, and the Board now warn the Guardians that if, through their default, the duties which devolve upon them are not in future duly and effectually discharged according to the intention of the Irish Poor Relief Acts, the Board will be reluctantly compelled to dissolve the Board of Guardians and appoint paid officers to administer the affairs of the Union.”

Notwithstanding that communication, the Local Government Board were again obliged, on the 2nd of October, to address the Guardians respecting their continued disregard of the Order regulating their proceedings, and their neglect to discharge certain important duties devolving on them. In that letter the Local Government Board stated:—

"It is evident, however, that the legitimate business of a Union so important as that of Cork cannot be permitted to remain neglected to the detriment of the poor and the injury of the ratepayers, and the Local Government Board desire now to address a final warning to the Guardians, and to state that if without sufficient reason they continue to leave undischarged the important functions entrusted to them the Local Government Board will feel compelled to relieve them of duties which they appear unable or unwilling to continue to fulfil in the manner prescribed in the regulations governing their proceedings."

The Board regret now to find that their repeated warnings have had no effect, and they are compelled to abandon all hope that the management of the affairs of the Cork Union will be carried on with regularity and in accordance with law by the present Board of Guardians. The Local Government Board, therefore, feel it to be their duty, in the exercise of their powers under the 18th section of the Irish Poor Relief Extension Act, to dissolve the Board of Guardians and to appoint paid officers to carry into execution the provisions of the Poor Law, Medical Charities and Public Health Acts in the Cork Union.

A copy of the Order dissolving the Board of Guardians is forwarded to you herewith.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk, Cork Union.

APPENDIX B.

MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT AND VACCINATION ACTS.

CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—VACCINATION—ALLEGED INSUSCEPTIBILITY.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
20th March, 1890.

Sir,

The attention of the Local Government Board for Ireland has been requested to certain Statistical Tables laid before the Royal Commission on Vaccination, including returns of the "Number of persons insusceptible of Vaccination" throughout the Superintendent-Registrars' districts, or Poor Law Unions of Ireland.

The number of persons returned as insusceptible is in many Unions very large, and the Local Government Board have reason to believe that in some instances cases postponed have been entered in error under the heading of cases insusceptible. The result of the inquiries the Board have been able to make on this subject up to the present time leaves no doubt, however, that some public vaccinators have certified persons to be insusceptible before taking adequate measures to satisfy themselves that this very rare form of constitutional peculiarity really existed in the cases certified.

The Local Government Board have to request that before a public vaccinator certifies any person to be insusceptible of vaccination he will be good enough to make three attempts to vaccinate, and on three separate occasions, and on each occasion with fresh Liquid Lymph (that is Lymph conveyed directly from arm to arm), and that in vaccinating he will on each occasion proceed in strict accordance with the directions laid down in the Board's instructional Circular of the 30th of August, 1880.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To each Medical Officer of a Dispensary
District, and each Medical Officer of a Workhouse.

No. 2.—COMMITTEES OF MANAGEMENT OF DISPENSARY DISTRICTS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
24th March, 1890.

Sir,

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to call your attention to the Circular of the Poor Law Commissioners dated the 21st of March, 1862, relating to the annual appointment of Dispensary Committees and Wardens, and to the extracts from previous Circulars appended thereto, and they request that you will take the necessary steps, as pointed out in the Circular referred to, to place before the Board of Guardians, after the annual election of Guardians, a correct list of the members of the Board entitled under section 7 of the Medical Charities Act (14 & 15 Vic., cap. 68) to be members of the respective Dispensary Committees in the Union. The Guardians should then, in each case in which it may be necessary to do so, elect a sufficient number of ratepayers possessing the qualifications prescribed by the section mentioned, so that the number of members of each Committee shall amount to the number authorized by Sealed Order.

This ought to be done by resolution and recorded on the minutes.

If it should appear from the Returning Officer's return of the election that there are any vacancies in the office of Guardian, the Board of Guardians should elect only such a number of qualified ratepayers to serve on the Dispensary Committees as would be necessary if the number of Guardians were complete, so that the persons who may be returned to supply the vacancies may become members of the respective Committees upon which they may be qualified and entitled to act.

As soon as the Committee shall have been completed for any Dispensary District, you should give notice to each member thereof of the day upon which the election of Chairman and Vice-Chairman and other honorary officers for the year will take place in accordance with Articles 6 & 7 of the Dispensary Regulations of 3rd November, 1885.

The Board enclose three copies of a form for a return of officers of the several Dispensary Committees in the Union to enable you to make the return in duplicate to this office and to retain a copy for the use of the Board of Guardians, and they request that you will procure the necessary information with the least possible delay and then forward the return to this office.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 3.—INFECTIOUS DISEASE (NOTIFICATION) ACT, 1889.
52 & 53 Vic., cap. 72.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
11th October, 1889.

SIR,

The Local Government Board for Ireland forward herewith, for the information of the Sanitary Authority, a reprint of the provisions applicable to Ireland of the "Infectious Disease (Notification) Act, 1889," which received the Royal assent on the 30th day of August last. This Act confers upon Sanitary Authorities important additional powers enabling them to acquire a knowledge of the existence of cases of infectious disease within their districts, and thus to put in force those provisions of the Public Health Act, 1878, intended to prevent the spread of infectious diseases. The following are the diseases specified in section 6 of the Act of 1889 :—

Small-pox.

Cholera.

Diphtheria and Membranous Croup.

Erysipelas.

Scarlatina or Scarlet Fever.

The Fevers known as Typhus, Typhoid or Enteric, Relapsing, Continued and Puerperal.

With respect to the diseases above-named it is enacted that where an inmate of any building used for human habitation, unless such building is a hospital in which persons suffering from infectious disease are received, the following provisions shall have effect :—

(a.) The head of the family to which such inmate (in this Act referred to as the patient) belongs, and in his default the nearest relatives of the patient present in the building or being in attendance on the patient, and in default of such relatives every person in charge of or in attendance on the patient, and in default of any such person the occupier of the building shall, as soon as he becomes aware that the patient is suffering from an infectious disease to which this Act applies, send notice thereof to the medical officer of health of the district :

(b.) Every medical practitioner attending on or called in to visit the patient shall forthwith, on becoming aware that the patient is suffering from an infectious disease to which this Act applies, send to the medical officer of health for the district a certificate stating the name of the patient, the situation of the building, and the infectious disease from which, in the opinion of such medical practitioner, the patient is suffering.

(2.) Every person required to give a notice or certificate who fails to give the same, shall be liable on summary conviction in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts to a fine not exceeding forty shillings ;

Provided that if a person is not required to give notice in the first instance, but only in default of some other person, he shall not be liable to any fine if he satisfies the court that he had reasonable cause to suppose that the notice had been duly given.

The Act does not extend to any urban, rural, or port sanitary district, until after its adoption by the "local authority," which is defined as meaning an urban or rural sanitary authority, within the meaning of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, and it is important sanitary authorities should observe that if they desire to extend the operation of the Act of 1889 to their district, it will be necessary to adopt the proceedings which are set forth in section 5 of the Act, in the following terms:—

(1.) The local authority of any urban, rural, or port sanitary district may adopt this Act by a resolution passed at a meeting of such authority; and fourteen clear days at least before such meeting special notice of the meeting, and of the intention to propose such resolution, shall be given to every member of the local authority, and the notice shall be deemed to have been duly given to a member if it is either:

Adoption of Act in urban or rural districts.

- (a) given in the mode in which notices to attend meetings of the local authority are usually given, or
- (b) where there is no such mode, then signed by the clerk of the local authority, and delivered to the member or left at his usual or last known place of abode in England, or forwarded by post in a prepaid letter addressed to the member at his usual or last known place of abode in England.

(2.) A resolution adopting this Act shall be published by advertisement in a local newspaper and by handbills, and otherwise in such manner as the local authority think sufficient for giving notice thereof to all persons interested, and shall come into operation at such time, not less than one month after the first publication of the advertisement of the resolution as the local authority may fix, and upon its coming into operation this Act shall extend to the district.

(3.) A copy of the resolution shall be sent to the Local Government Board when it is published.

In addition to the diseases specified in Section 6 of the Act power is given to sanitary authorities to extend the definition of infectious disease, from time to time, by an order passed after the observance of the prescribed conditions and approved by the Local Government Board.

The Act provides that the expenses incurred by a sanitary authority in the execution of the Act shall be paid as part of the expenses of such authority in the execution of the Acts relating to public health, and in the case of a rural authority shall be general expenses. Section 4 enacts that the Local Government Board may from time to time prescribe forms for the purpose of certificates under the Act, and any forms so prescribed shall be used in all cases to which they apply. It is further provided that the local authority shall gratuitously supply forms of certificate to any medical practitioner residing or practising in their district who applies for the same, and shall pay to every medical practitioner for each certificate duly sent by him in accordance with this Act a fee of two shillings and sixpence if the case occurs in his private practice, and of one shilling if the case occurs in his practice as medical officer of any public body or institution, and that where in any district of a local authority there are two or more medical officers of health of such authority a certificate under this Act shall be given to such one of those officers as has charge of the area in which is the patient referred to in the certificate, or to such other of those officers as the local authority may from time to time direct.

It is provided that a notice or certificate to be sent to a medical officer of health in pursuance of this Act may be sent by being delivered to the officer or being left at his office or residence, or may be sent by post addressed to him at his office or at his residence, and that where a medical practitioner attending on a patient is himself the medical officer of health of the district he shall be entitled to the fee to which he would be entitled if he were not such medical officer.

Section 13 enacts that the provisions of this Act shall apply to every ship, vessel, boat, tent, van, shed, or similar structure used for human habitation, in like manner as nearly as may be as if it were a building.

A ship, vessel, or boat, lying in any river, harbour, or other water not within the district of any local authority within the meaning of this Act shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be within the district of such local authority as may be fixed by the Local Government Board, and where no local authority has been fixed, then of the local authority of the district which nearest adjoins the place where such ship, vessel, or boat is lying.

Upon the receipt of a copy of the resolution of any sanitary authority adopting the Act, the Local Government Board will be prepared to prescribe the forms of certificates to be used under the Act.

Your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board for Ireland to forward to you the accompanying copies of tables which have been prepared in this Department, by means of which the amount of principal of loans obtained by Boards of Guardians under the Labourers (Ireland) Acts outstanding at any time may be ascertained.

Examples are given in front of the tables for the guidance of Clerks of Unions.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To the Clerk of——Union.

ENCLOSURE to the FOREGOING.

TABLES by which the outstanding balances of Principal of Loans advanced under the Labourers (Ireland) Acts for terms of 35 years, 40 years, or 50 years, may at any time be readily ascertained.

RULE.—(1.) Multiply each instalment of the loan which has been received by the tabular number opposite to the number of financial years^a (or financial years and half-year) in respect of which repayments shall have been made since the issue of the instalment, and the product will be the outstanding balance of principal in respect of such instalment.

^a By financial years or half-years are meant periods of twelve or six months commencing on a First day of May, or a First day of November.

- (2.) Add together the products so obtained, and also the amount of any instalment in respect of which no repayment has been made (see Example 2), and the result will be the total amount of principal outstanding.

EXAMPLE.—A Loan of £1,750 (repayable in 40 years) has been issued as follows:—

300 in January, 1885,
550 in September, 1886,
580 in July, 1887, and
320 in January, 1888.

- (1.) Required: The outstanding balance of principal after the half-yearly repayment due on the 1st of November, 1892, shall have been made?

Answer:—

300×900467 ($7\frac{1}{2}$ years paid) ^a	=	270	2 9
550×922529 (3 years paid)	=	507	7 10
580×936577 (5 years paid)	=	543	4 3
320×943863 ($4\frac{1}{2}$ years paid)	=	301	17 6
Total,		£1,622	12 4

- (2.) Required: The outstanding balance after the half-yearly repayment due on the 1st of November, 1887, had been made?

III.—CORRESPONDENCE, &c.

No 1.—INQUIRIES under SECTION 163 of the PUBLIC HEALTH (IRELAND) ACT, 1878, respecting the condition of BURIAL GROUNDS.

Instructional letter to Medical Inspectors.

Local Government Board, Dublin,

4th March, 1890.

SIR,—I am directed by the Local Government Board for Ireland to state that owing to changes which have recently taken place in the staff of Medical Inspectors the Board think it desirable to address you on the subject of inquiries under section 163 of the Public Health Act respecting the condition of burial grounds, and to express their opinion as to the manner in which such inquiries should be conducted.

The Board think that in the first instance evidence should be obtained on oath as to whether the requirements of section 163 with respect to the posting of the notices of the inquiry have been complied with. This evidence is important, and until it is shown that the necessary preliminaries have been properly carried out no evidence should be taken as to the condition of the graveyard.

The next stage in the proceedings is to take evidence as to the state of the burial ground, and the nature of this evidence must be left to your discretion as from your knowledge of the statements contained in the representation and the previous correspondence you will probably have given notice to attend to the persons capable of affording trustworthy testimony respecting the condition of the graveyard.

With respect to claims for right of interment it has been found that the questions put to witnesses vary considerably at inquiries held by different Inspectors, and with a view to securing greater uniformity in this respect in future the Board have to suggest to you that each applicant for reservation of right of interment should be required to supply satisfactory information on the following points before you recommend his name to be included in the Schedule of exceptions to the Order:—

1. What title—whether by purchase or by usage, and, if by usage, whether any other persons have equal rights in the grave. If obtained by purchase, documentary evidence ought to be forthcoming. If exclusive right is claimed, the nature of the claim should be fully set forth.
2. Precise size of grave or vault—any tombstone?—any inscription?—and if so, what is the degree of relationship of the applicant to the persons whose names are inscribed?

3. If there be a church in the graveyard which is actually used for Divine worship, and the right of interment is claimed in a vault, it will be necessary to ascertain whether the vault is under or adjoining any part of the church, and in the case of all vaults care should be taken to ascertain whether the opening of them would disturb the vaults or graves of other persons.
4. What is the number of persons already interred in the grave claimed? What was the date of the last interment? Was the applicant present thereto? If not, some person must attend who was present, and can swear to the depth of earth over the coffin, measuring from the natural surface of the ground.
5. In considering claims attention should be given to the nature of the soil. Human remains and the coffins in which they are enclosed are preserved for many years (from ten to fourteen) in wet and undrained clayey soils, whereas skeletons alone remain after an interval of from seven to ten years in dry, sandy, gravelly and well drained cemeteries. It must be borne in mind that no unwall'd grave should be reopened within fourteen years after the burial of a person above twelve years of age, or within eight years after the burial of a child under twelve years of age, unless to bury another member of the same family, and if opened sooner to bury a member of the same family a layer of earth not less than one foot in depth should be left undisturbed above the previously buried coffin. It is well to bear in mind that coffins vary in depth from fourteen to eighteen inches. Sixteen inches may be taken as the average.
6. Where rights are proposed to be reserved in respect of a family group whose ages do not vary much it is to be borne in mind that if several lives expire within a short period of each other it may not be possible to bury all the bodies in the space claimed.
7. It is always expedient, when possible, to reserve to a widow or widower the right to be interred in the grave of a deceased husband or wife.
8. When a graveyard is surrounded by inhabited dwellings, or is situated within a town a very strong case should be established before admitting claims of exemption. The evidence given in the reports on intra-mural sepulture in a series of Parliamentary papers published from 1848 to 1850 clearly established that living in the vicinity of graveyards undermines the constitution, and when any epidemic touched the locality the people fell before it. Thus cholera has always attacked persons living in the vicinity of crowded graveyards.

The Board think that attention to the points indicated will greatly facilitate them in considering the question of closing burial grounds against future interments, especially in cases where the claims for reservation are numerous.

In some cases burial boards forward representations to the Local Government Board in favour of closing overcrowded graveyards without having taken any steps under section 172 to provide the public with burial ground accommodation as a substitute for the graveyard it is proposed should be closed. This is a point which should not be lost sight of by an Inspector holding an inquiry, and if no new burial ground has been provided it would be of great assistance to the Local Government Board if he would deal with this aspect of the matter in his report, pointing out whether it might not be possible for the burial board to extend the existing graveyard; he should also ascertain and state the space available for further interments in existing graveyards which may be within reasonable reach of the persons who have resorted to the burial ground which formed the subject of inquiry.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. A. MOONEY, Secretary.

To each Medical Inspector.

TABULAR RETURNS IN CONNECTION WITH RELIEF UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

[NOTE.—In this series of tables, the unions are classed in the Counties and Provinces in which the chief or central place of each union is situate; but many of the unions comprise parts of more than one County or Province. The total population of the unions in the respective Counties and Provinces, as arranged in the summary of Table No. 2, does not, therefore, agree with the summaries of those Counties and Provinces in the census returns. An index of the dispensary districts is annexed (No. 6), showing the name of the union in which each district is situate, and referring to the table and page in which the particulars relating to each district are to be found.]
